FRANKFURT HIT BY U. S. FORTS

Big Planes Press Obliteration of Great Nazi Industrial City.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 8—American Flying Fortresses in force thundered bombs on Frankfurt again today and the fury of their attack left no doubt the obliteration of another great German manufacturing center was well begun.

While the Fortresses made their 400-mile penetration of Germany under protection of long-distance fighters, an independent force of Liberators droned across the channel to join American Marauders and British Typhoons and Hurricanes in a concentrated pounding of targets in northern France.

Frankfurt, a city of half a million near the junction of the Main and the Rhine rivers, already had been severely damaged by three heavy RAF attacks when well over 800 American bombers struck it with 1,800 tons of explosives last Jan. 29.

Both Fortresses and Liberators delivered another punishing attack Feb. 4 and the follow-up today emphasized allied determination to wipe out the city with its rail yards, aircraft component factories and chemical plants.

The daylight air offensive came after the RAF's swift Mosquitos bombed unspecified objectives in western Germany last night for the 6th time in seven nights.

In addition to bombing western Germany, RAF night raiders attacked enemy airfields in northern France, an air ministry communique said. The overnight operations were carried out without loss.

The American heavies now have conducted 10 major operations in 12 winter days—a historically intensive pace indicative of the growing strength of the American air force now numbering more than 2,000 heavy bombers in the United Kingdom.

The Marauder medium[illegible] worked on two air fields and other military targets in northern France Sunday—went out today with a strong escort of RAF, dominion and allied Spitfires.

"We met one of the largest volleys of flak I've heard those sons of guns let loose," said one of the first Marauder pilots to return, Lt. G. K. Eubanks, Throckmorton, Tex.

"There was a heavy carpet of bombs laid on our targets," reported Staff Sgt. Robert H[illegible], Austin, Tex.

JAP HOMELAND NOT TOLD OF ISLAND LOSS

Casualty Figures Show How Crushing Was Defeat on Kwajalein.

By The Associated Press

The Japanese homeland remained in the dark today on the stunning Nipponese defeat in the swift American capture of Kwajalein in the Marshall islands.

Just how complete was the U. S. victory was indicated in casualty figures given out at Pearl Harbor by Admiral Chester W. Nimitz. They showed:

Japanese dead 8,122

American dead 286

The Tokyo radio, in an 8 a. m. domestic broadcast, told its listeners that "bitter fighting continued in the Marshalls," although the 60-mile long Kwajalein atoll has been in American hands for several days. There has been no word of any further landings on other islands.

Commander Anthony Kimmins of the British Royal navy, the first military observer to return from the Marshalls, declared at Pearl Harbor that the Kwajalein campaign, which started Jan. 31, was the most perfectly executed action he had seen.

Why Japanese casualties ran so high was suggested by Associated Press War Correspondent William L. Worden in a description of the pulverizing American bombardment of the coral target now being converted into a U. S. air and naval base in the heart of the enemy's central Pacific defense line.

Fish and Crabs Die Too

"American guns destroyed, as nearly as it is possible to destroy land itself, the northwest end of Kwajalein island," he wrote. "Nothing that was there when this blanket of hot steel fell, is alive—no men, no trees, not even tiny crabs which were scuttling through the coral, nor minute devilfish which lived in holes in the reef."

The Kwajalein drive cost the U. S. Marine and Army forces amazingly fewer casualties than for the successful Gilberts campaign in which 1,092 were killed and 2,680 wounded. The Japanese lost nearly 4,000 men during the November, 1943, fighting.

American wounded on Kwajalein totaled 1,148, and 82 were listed as missing. No compilation on Japanese wounded was available, but 264 were taken prisoner.

Washington inclined to the belief the Feb. 4 sea bombardment of Paramushiro island, Japan's big base in the North Pacific, was intended to distract and confuse the enemy, and was not in itself preliminary to invasion. Yesterday's disclosure of the attack was followed by a Vichy radio report U. S. forces had landed in the Kuriles.

Rabaul Under Attack

Allied bombers ranging over the southwest Pacific kept up the continuing attacks on Rabaul, New Britain, where for the second consecutive day enemy fighter defense was reported as weak.

HULL SAYS FINNS GIVEN U. S. WARNING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—Secretary Hull disclosed today that the United States has recently renewed its warning to the government of Finland to get out of the war or accept the consequences of continuing to fight on the side of Germany.

The action was the first taken by this government with respect to Finland for some time and suggested the Finns might be under an allied diplomatic as well as military offensive to force them out of the war.

The secretary of state was asked at a press conference for information of Stockholm reports that there had recently been an exchange of communications between the U. S. and Finland on the Finnish position.

"The United States government," Hull replied, "has recently taken occasion to say to the Finnish government, as it has on a number of occasions in the past, that the responsibility for the consequences of Finland's collaboration with Germany and continuance in a state of war with a number of this country's allies including the Soviet Union and the British Commonwealth of Nations, must be borne solely by the Finnish government."

Allied Beachhead Near Rome Sure To Face Heavy Nazi Blow

By WILLIAM FRYE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—The Nettuno beachhead in Italy is sure to be hit by a savage and powerful German counterattack, military observers here said today, but it probably will weather the storm.

Probably, that is; they emphasized not certainly. There is some uneasiness here about the situation, but as yet no evidence of alarm.

The question naturally arises why didn't the troops who achieved tactical surprise and brilliant success in their landings thrust quickly into the interior, slashing German communications and occupying the heights—why are they now in the position of merely consolidating their beachhead against expected counterattack?

Problem of Supply

The answers can be fairly well pinned down to one word—supply.

Anzio and Nettuno provide no port facilities worthy of the name. Supply is by barge and landing boat literally across the beaches, a complicated process at best, particularly so when the weather is bad.

The suggestions that rapid thrusts by armored columns could have cut the Appian Way, perhaps driven the Germans from the heights around the beachhead, possibly have reached to the Casilina Way—what about them?

Just this: Assuming tanks have been put ashore with their crews, getting enough drums of gasoline rolled through the surf and stored in fuel dumps is quite another matter. Setting up and operating truck lines to follow the tanks and carry their gasoline from the dumps still another.

Armored columns alone could not have held any gains they might have made. Their principal value would have been a spearhead-

County Pushes E Bond Sales

Now at 77% of Goal; School Drive Set; LaRue To Hold Auction.

A variety of special activities spurred the Fourth War Loan in Marion county yesterday and today.

Plans for city school pupils to conduct an intensive bond campaign this week were announced this morning.

LaRue community is busy with final plans for its bond auction at the LaRue school Thursday night.

The Palace theater was practically filled for both performances of a military war bond show last night.

"Back Your Buddy" bond sales passed the 1,100 mark toward a goal of starring the names of the county's 4,100 service men and women.

Sales yesterday pushed the E bond total to $531,512.50 or 77 per cent of the E goal. Total sales of all series now stand at $3,327,001.50.

Schools Schedule 2-Day Bond Sale

Marion school pupils will roll up their sleeves this week and stage a citywide campaign that will be one of the final features of the Fourth War Loan.

Thursday and Friday the elementary and junior high schools will conduct a two-day bond sale. Their goal is to purchase as many landing craft as possible with war bonds. These craft, used in invasion operations, cost $12,000 each.

In announcing the school campaign, Cecil Gable, general chairman, said the drive is intended primarily to afford pupils and teachers an opportunity for buying Series E bonds through the school, but added that "We would be happy to handle any application from parents or neighbors."

2 U. S. SUBMARINES REPORTED MISSING

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 — Loss of two American submarines, the Cisco and the S-44, was announced today by the Navy.

The submersibles both presumably were operating in Pacific waters where American submarines have been taking a heavy toll of Japanese shipping.

Their losses bring to 19 the number of American undersea craft lost since the war started. Against those losses our submarines have sunk, probably sunk or damaged 572 Japanese vessels, including warships.

The Navy gave no details in announcing loss of the 18 year old S-44 and the big, new Cisco, commissioned only last May.

Commander James W. Coe, Richmond, Ind., skipper of the Cisco, was listed as missing in action. The Cisco was one of the newest type American submarines. She had a displacement of 1,525 tons and carried a crew of approximately 65 men.

FEDERAL WAR BALLOT WINS SENATE VOTE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—The administration won a major victory for its federal war ballot plan today as the senate tacked the proposal on to a house-passed "states rights" bill for the voting by the armed forces.

The roll call vote was 46 to 40 in favor of attaching the modified Green-Lucas federal ballot bill to the "states rights" measure which would have left to the states the job of handling all armed service voting.

The vote came a few minutes after the senate rejected 45 to 41 an attempt by opponents of the administration plan to nullify the Green-Lucas proposal.

The senate's action presaged a move to send the entire service vote controversy into a conference of senate and house members in an effort to work out a compromise measure agreeable to both branches of congress.

The Green-Lucas bill would send federal ballots overseas and to military personnel in this country for votes on president, vice president and members of congress.

Two Capacity Crowds Attend Soldiers' 4th War Loan Shows

"Varieties" Score Hit at Palace and Sell E Bonds That May Total Around $160,000.

By EDNA S. DUTTON

With ticket sales amounting to more than $112,000 accounted for by attendance at the two performances of the "Air Service Command Varieties" last night at the Palace theater, Marion county's E bond sales were increased appreciably, sponsors of the project reported today. Because no definite check of bonds sold at banks, building and loan offices and other designated places has been completed—many purchasers bought several hundred or a thousand dollars' worth and asked for only one admission ticket—no dollars and cents figures are available on the sale as yet. However, a conservative estimate places the figures at around $160,000. "Admissions" sold at the theater after 4 p. m. yesterday amounted to $1,275 cash value. The ticket sale was sponsored by the Rotary club.

Many Early Arrivals

Thousands of residents of the city and county, armed with large red tickets denoting that they had purchased at least one E bond, flocked to the theater for the Army show now on tour in the interest of the bond sale. Long before the doors were opened for the first show, scheduled for 8:30 o'clock, the lobby was jammed and a line extended for a considerable length on the street in front of the theater.

The theater was practically filled to capacity for the two performances and the audiences were treated to an hour's entertainment of vocal and instrumental music ranging from semi-classical to jitter-bug, clever dance numbers and fast-moving sketches. The bond customers were in a mood for fun and the men in uniform evidently enjoyed providing the bill of fare.

AIR AND LAND BLOWS PRELUDE TO BIG BATTLE

Germans Strengthen Forces for Blow at Allies South of Rome.

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Feb. 8 — Waves of German planes struck in heavy attack yesterday at the allied invasion beachhead below Rome, headquarters announced today, and thunderous artillery shelling continued in prelude to an impending major battle.

One Nazi dive-bomber hit an American evacuation hospital, killing 22 and wounding 63 persons, including U. S. nurses, front dispatches said. The hospital was plainly marked and lay a mile from any military target.

The dead included two nurses, four doctors, four wounded soldiers, and 10 enlisted men of the hospital unit.

Nineteen German planes were shot down.

American and British troops further consolidated their positions in the bridgehead, and the Germans strengthened their force around the invasion area. There were no major land attacks reported on either side.

Grim fighting continued in the streets of Cassino to the east and the mountains around the town. Despite fierce attacks by Americans who have nearly surrounded the town, the Nazis still held three-quarters of it, and had kept open a corridor to their rear lines.

(Doughboy units have pushed within 100 yards of the summit of Mt. Cassino west of the town, the Algiers radio said.)

Five hundred Germans have been captured by U. S. troops in the Cassino area.

Planes Strike in Relays

The Germans threw strong relays of bomb-carrying Focke-Wulfs over the Rome area beachhead, and American fighters intercepted them. Some dropped bombs on allied troops, but most of the formations were broken up before reaching their objectives.

Headquarters disclosed the Germans had used flame-throwers, tanks, and other weapons in their first major effort against the beachhead—an attack Saturday night west of Cisterna.

Twenty-four German planes and two gliders were shot down during the day in all Italian operations, against loss of five allied ships.

Heavy artillery barrages continued in the Cassino area but field reports said the intensity of street fighting in the town itself slackened yesterday.

The Americans made new gains on Mt. Cassino although the Germans fought fiercely because the hill dominates Cassino and their corridor to it.

Elsewhere on the Fifth army front there was active patroling and a Nazi attack on Mt. Ornito was beaten off. Two German patrol raids on Orsogna on the Eighth army front were repulsed.

American Spitfires shot down four Henschel 126s used to tow gliders and two gliders over the gulf of Genoa. Another Nazi plane was downed west of Corsica.

Allied Bombers Active

Allied medium bombers rained explosives yesterday on German troops and supplies at Cisterna, key comunications center 26 miles southeast of Rome, and attacked rail yards at Viterbo and oil storage tanks at the port of Leghorn.

Field dispatches said last night German artillery was pouring thousands of shells into the 100-square-mile beachhead, throwing as many as 700 or 800 shells into a single area in 15 minutes. Nazi patrols, meanwhile, nervously probed allied positions all along the line.

The Nazis have had time "to draw armored reserves even from the interior of Germany and may be expected to continue to build up," Associated Press Correspondent Daniel De Luce said yesterday. He added allied supplies also were continuing to pour ashore despite long-range shelling from the Germans.

(In Washington, a British military official said yesterday British and American forces appeared to be losing some of the initiative in the bridgehead, but declared fears they might be driven into the sea were unjustified.

Former Marionite Killed in Action

Staff Sgt. Paul E. Mason, 20, above, Harding High school graduate, was killed in action on Nov. 3, 1943. Reported missing in action early in November last year, a telegram from the war department Jan. 25 notified his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Mason of Pierceton, Ind., former residents of Marion, of his death. He enlisted in the Army air force at Fort Wayne, Ind., in August after his graduation in 1942 from Harding High school. He was graduated from gunner's school at Las Vegas, Nev., a year ago. He was ball turret gunner on a Flying Fortress that went down during a raid on Germany.

TAX BILL NEAR FINAL DRAFT

Revenue Measure Expected To Go to White House Wednesday.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—Time, the Constitution and a force-line clause in the $2,315,200,000 tax bill combined today to make it impossible for President Roosevelt to allow the measure to become law without his signature unless he is willing to lose more than $87,000,000 in potential revenue.

The measure, which Mr. Roosevelt has criticized as unrealistic and which blocks a social security payroll tax increase he thinks should take effect, can not reach the White House before Wednesday, according to enrolling clerks, although it received final congressional approval yesterday. If Mr. Roosevelt then decides to allow it to become law without signing it, it would take effect under the Constitution 10 days later (Sundays excepted), or Feb. 21.

However, the bill provides that

"Bad Luck" Theft Nets 3 Pounds of Butter, Jail Visit

A "grab bag" theft from a U. S. mail truck at the Union Station proved hardly worth the effort for a 16-year-old New York youth when the package he had taken was found to contain three pounds of homemade butter.

The boy was arrested almost immediately by Chesapeake & Ohio police who were watching and was taken to police headquarters where he was held until a federal inspector arrived. The arrest was made at about 7 a. m. today.

The package, mailed from Newark, O., was addressed to a Marion family and will be forwarded to them. The youth will be held at the Marion county juvenile detention home pending a hearing.

The boy refused to talk but apparently he was just passing through Marion. A bundle containing clothes and other personal items had the phrase, "Pearl Harbor Bound" scribbled across it.

WITNESSES SAY AREA BOMBED DELIBERATELY

63 Wounded as Planes Attack Tents Plainly Marked with Crosses.

By DANIEL DE LUCE
Associated Press correspondent representing the combined American Press.

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY ON THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD, Feb. 7—(Delayed)—Two German fighter-bombers in bright sunlight this afternoon bombed a crowded beachhead evacuation hospital, killing 22 persons and wounding 64 including nurses.

Sixteen of the dead and [illegible] wounded were members of the hospital's American personnel.

Two nurses were killed, three seriously wounded and one Red Cross girl was wounded.

The figures were given by Lt. Col. Robert L. Hinkley, Denver, Colo., hospital executive officer, who escaped injury but the death toll already was mounting as he talked two hours after the raid at 3:30 p. m.

(In Washington the war department said the nurses were the first to lose their lives through direct enemy action in this war.)

There apparently was not the remotest reason to doubt it was a deliberate attack.

Bombs Hit Crosses

Anti-personnel bombs landed at the very edge of the Red Cross (insignia surmounting the hospital) which is 45 feet square with bars six feet wide.

There was not a single major military objective within a mile radius of the hospital. There also were three other hospitals—all equally plainly marked with Red Crosses—jammed up against the victim of the attack, making it literally impossible to mistake the sector for anything but a hospital zone.)

"One of them came in quite low across the whole hospital area," said Corp. Jeff Young, 21, truck driver of Dayton, O., who had just walked out of his tent as the planes came in. "That pilot knew what he was doing all right—he seemed to aim right at the Red Cross. I dived for a foxhole and just made it."

Lt. Col. Howard Patterson, chief surgeon and formerly with the Roosevelt hospital in New York, was performing a brain operation when the bombs struck. No one was injured in the operating tent but its canvas was literally riddled. He finished the operation.

Only anti-personnel bombs were dropped. There was some doubt whether the planes did any strafing. Some said they did, others said they didn't. The noise of anti-aircraft guns made it hard to tell.

When the attack was over, the entire surviving personnel of the hospital went into action. Nurses worked with courageous efficiency which won the praise of officers and men.

"You couldn't get me to go home now," said Lt. Gladys Joyce of Duluth, Minn., grimly to a weary and silent group of nurses stood around a tattered tent at dusk. "Of course they knew what they were doing."

Shrapnel Rips Tents

Shrapnel also perforated tents where a number of women nurses were sleeping on cots after doing night duty. Three ambulances were struck.

(A dispatch from John Lardner, representing the combined American press, estimated the number of wounded at "at least 64" and emphasized that the hospital was "on a naked plain a full mile from any military installation." The hospital tents were clearly marked with red crosses, Lardner said.)

The hospital detachment commander, Captain Thomas Mathews of Houston, Tex., was present when the hospital was hit.

"I saw bombs land right in the middle of the hospital," he told me. "Come and see for yourself."

This was only an hour after the bombing and debris still was all about. He showed me a total of eight small bomb craters, all made by the anti-personnel type bomb.

I saw where one bomb had fallen exactly six inches from a huge red cross flag stretched on the ground. It had even ripped part of the flag to pieces.

"It's impossible that the Red Cross markings weren't seen," Capt. Mathews insisted. "Besides this huge Red Cross flag on this side, there's another on on the other side of the hospital tents. And the tents themselves, as you can see, are prominently marked by 26 Red Cross flags.

"What's more, all the bombs landed were anti-personnel bombs, intended to get the people living in tents. The German plane was much too low not to have seen these markings."

AGREE ON PLANS FOR MUSTERING OUT PAY

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8 — The Army and Navy have agreed on a plan to make mustering-out payments to veterans of this war discharged honorably since Dec. 6, 1941.

A veteran discharged or relieved from active duty after approval of the law will receive his payment without filing an application. A man released prior to approval of the law must (1) submit a certificate of discharge or service, (2) submit an informal type of certified application stating his name and address; service number, serial number or file number, that he was not discharged to accept employment without service outside the United States; that he is not now on active duty; that he has not made any other application for mustering-out pay, the state in which he lived when inducted, and whether he has had foreign service.

The application form will not be printed by the Army and Navy, but the veteran may copy it or submit any facsimile from its publication in newspapers or elsewhere.

The offices at which applications must be made are as follows.

Officers discharged from the Navy—bureau of naval personnel, Navy department, Washington, D. C.

Coast guard officers — U. S. Coast Guard headquarters, Washington, D. C.

Marine corps officers — Commandant of the Marine Corps, Washington, D. C.

Army officers — To one of a selected list of finance offices, U. S. army, the offices being the same as for enlisted men.

Navy and coast guard enlisted veterans — Field branch, bureau of supplies and accounts, Cleveland, O.

Marine Corps enlisted veterans — Commandant of the Marine Corps, Washington, D. C.

Army veterans (both officers and enlisted men)—with the finance officer, U. S. Army, for the state of which they were residents at the time of their induction.

cut off the garrison from escape to the west while on the east other Red army units battered their way into the city.

The dispatch reported the "slaughter" of German troops who tried to escape across the mud flats of the Dnieper south and southwest of Nikopol.

Low-flying Stormoviks raked the streets of the city with deadly fire. Izvestia said there were 22 wrecked German tanks and 1,600 dead at the gates of the city. On the southern side of the Dnieper opposite Nikopol, Izvestia said German forces sought to retreat into the city across muddy roads but failed as Soviet artillery blasted communications day and night.

Captives declared the German command in Nikopol was in panic.

Izvestia told of the plight of the Germans in the upper end of the Dnieper bend where the Russians are closing their steel ring around what remains of 10 divisions and handing heavy defeats to German forces trying to reach them from the outside.

Captives Oscar Apeilt and Fritz Reiter said the ground is littered with corpses and the night full of the cries of wounded and dying. Apeilt said his regiment had been reduced to a battalion and Reiter said his regiment was made up of the remnants of three regiments.

They said their former basis of one meal a day had been reduced to whatever could be dropped from the air.

Berlin Charges British Attack Red Cross Ship

By The Associated Press

LONDON, Feb. 8—Berlin radio declared today British planes bombed and machine-gunned the 900-ton Swedish Red Cross ship Wiril in a harbor of the Aegean island of Chios yesterday, killing a Dr. Nielson, Swedish Red Cross representative, and members of the Swedish crew.

No comment was available immediately from Swedish or allied sources.

The broadcast said six multi-engined British planes made three low-level attacks which started fires on the motor ship.

"The Wiril was far distant from any military target," the broadcast said. "She was clearly marked as a Red Cross vessel."

Japs Are Right in Saying Pacific Situation Critical

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

A radio report of Japanese government has warned its people that "the Pacific war situation is becoming more serious" and that "the enemy's offensive throughout the entire Pacific is about to be strengthened another step" which seems to sum up the situation very well.

This statement (part of a broadcast) was evoked by our latest two-feature program—seizure with almost unbelievable ease of the heart of Nippon's powerful Marshall island defenses, and the sensational hat-trick performed by a task force of the United States Navy in bombarding Paramushiro Island. A Yankee air force also bombed Paramushiro—but we can let that pass.

Now these are no ordinary events. The Marshalls are a vital plate in the armor which shields the Japanese homeland, and the broadcasting spokesman took the pains to tell his listeners that these islands are "only 11 hours to Tokyo by the Flying Fortress of the enemy."

Part of Japan Proper

Paramushiro, although some 1,280 miles northeast of Tokyo in the Kurile chain, is geographically part of Nippon proper. Also it's the chief Jap naval base in this strategic zone, which is close to Russian territory and is only about 800 miles from our island of Attu in the Aleutians.

As the harassed Jap broadcaster surmised, probably further allied operations are impending in the whole Pacific area. I don't think we should jump to the conclusion that this means the great, all-out drive against the Mikado's forces is about to begin. There still are many preliminaries to be carried out, and anyway we probably shall have to await the end of the European conflict to release equipment for the final assault.

However, American naval and air superiority in the Pacific make it possible for us to undertake further major operations at any time. The Anglo-American forces under Lord Mountbatten in southeast Asia presumably also are ready for preliminary activities. Thus the Jap estimate that "the enemy's offensive throughout the entire Pacific is about to be strengthened another step" may not be a bad guess.

Our position has been vastly strengthened by the amazing conquest in the Marshalls—achieved, comparatively speaking, with infinitesimal loss in American lives. Virtually the whole vast Kwajalein atoll is in our hands, and so far as concerns any little islands still unoccupied, they are no cause for worry. As Rear Admiral Richard K. Turner, commander of amphibious operations, remarked of thes secondary isles at the time of the invasion:

"We can either take them or let them wither on the vine."

Still Work to Do

Of course, we still have considerable work to do in knocking out the other defenses of the Japs in the Marshalls. Meantime there's always the possibility that hte big enemy fleet at Truk—Nipponese Gibraltar 938 miles southwest of Kwajalein—may come out and give battle. That would precipitate a titanic naval engagement, and it's something the Yankee fleet has been hoping for, since we think we have the Jap measure.

Still, the enemy has given no indication that he intends to use his precious fleet for such a hazardous adventure. Truk is the prize which he must defend at all costs, and it will be surprising if his fleet doesn't continue to wait for trouble to come to it, rather than to hunt trouble.

That naval battle is likely to come in due course, though, for Truk is one of our prime objectives. When we get that stronghold we shall have the Mikado looking for a fox-hole. The Jap warning to the public probably anticipates a drive in that direction, and it might come before long, although one would expect several other lesser operations to be carried out first. The Jap base of Rabaul, south of Truk, and Wake and Nauru islands would seem ripe for the plucking.

TAX BILL

the $1,051,300,000 in excise tax increases "shall take effect on the first day of the first month which begins more than 10 days after the date of the enactment of this act." Non-signature would make the effective date April 1, rather than March 1, with a consequent potential loss of one-twelfth of a year's excise tax additions.

Seek Simpler Structure

Without waiting to see what would happen to this legislation, congress turned to the job of attempting to simplify the present income tax structure. Chairman Doughton (D-NC) said his house ways and means committee would begin a study of the matter immediately.

The anticipated $2,315,200,000 yield from the new measure will push total federal revenue above an estimated $42,200,000,000 over a full year's operation. Both the President and the treasury have declared an increase of at least $10,500,000,000 should have been provided.

Individual income taxpayers face an additional $664,900,000 load through abolition of the earned income credit and disallowance of deductions for federal excise taxes paid. The Victory tax becomes a straight 3 per cent levy on income over $624 a year, regardless of family status. The changes apply to 1944 income and not to 1943.

Higher Profit Rate

A rise from 90 to 95 per cent in the excess profits rate is expected to bring in an extra $502,100,000 from corporations.

Higher postal rates, effective 30 days after enactment, are counted upon for $96,900,000 more. In-town mail goes from two cents to three, and the airmail rate from 6 cents per ounce to 8.

The $1,051,300,000 excise increase embraces a tax of $9 instead of $6 per 100-proof gallon on liquor, 20 per cent retail sales taxes on furs, cosmetics, luggage, and (with a few exceptions) jewelry, as well as sharp boosts in such levies as those on telephone calls, railroad tickets, night club checks, and bowling alleys. The admissions tax to places of amusement becomes a penny for each nickel of charge.

The bill carries a series of amendments to the war contracts renegotiation act, finally approved in form acceptable to the war department.

Woman Given Parole in Girard Kidnaping

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8—The state pardon and parole commission announced today that Betty Pemberton of Youngstown, sentenced to 10-to-25 years for kidnaping and armed robbery, would be paroled March 15 from Marysville reformatory for women.

She entered the reformatory Feb. 13, 1941, after pleading guilty to abducting Fred Gerlach of Girard Nov. 23, 1940, with three accomplices and robbing him of $3 while he lay bound on the floor of his automobile which the quartet had commandeered.

The commission refused a parole for Gladys Mahaffey of Youngstown, sentenced to the reformatory on similar charges in the same kidnaping, and continued her case for hearing next June. The men in the case, Domonic Chirchigla and Gino F. Bionci, both of Youngstown, were sentenced to Mansfield reformatory. They received parole hearings in 1942 and their cases were continued until December, 1945.

Water Shortage Not Critical in Marion Co.

Marion county farms have been affected some by the exceptionally dry winter this year, local officials report, but only mildly compared with damage in other sections of the state. So far, no serious damage to crops have been reported in this area and only now are reports being heard about wells going dry.

A few farmers from the eastern section of the county, near Claridon, have reported wells going dry. The farms thus affected are confined at the present time to non-driven wells.

ARMY PILOT KILLED

By The Associated Press

FALMOUTH, Ky., Feb. 8—An army medium bomber crashed in a locust grove four miles north of this northern Kentucky community at 11:09 o'clock (central war time) last night, killing the pilot and injuring another officer aboard, Maj. E. N. Kaiser, formerly of Montgomery, Ala.

BOND SHOWS

setting the show opened with a sextet of hoofers who set the tempo for the performances. No stranger to many in the audience was Paul Arnold, former vocalist with WLW, who appeared as soloist with the Marion Civic orchestra on the Palace stage in February 1941. He sang "Begin the Beguine," and was brought back for an encore. By way of variety Cpl. Howard Brooks entertained with his bag of sleight of hand tricks and oldsters in the audiences were taken back a quarter of a century with tuneful presentation of songs of World War I days. Some fast stepping was done by the Three Snafus, Pvt. Lou Spencer, Pfc. Stan Sirois and Pfc. Charles Reade, and Staff Sgt. Joseph Raieff, whose study and tours took him to Europe and all over the United States as a concert pianist before he began his military career, took a bow for his rendition of "Rhapsody in Blue," played in tribute to the composer Gershwin.

Actors of Experience

The show was not without its feminine touch in the impersonation of the "secretary" in the comedy sketch, "The Private and the Colonel." The role of private is taken by Pvt. Jerry Jaroslow, director, a master of ceremonies during four of the seven years he spent in the show business prior to his induction, and "Col. Frying" in military life is Cpl. Tileston Perry. His civilian career included appearances with the late Leslie Howard in "Hamlet," with Vivien Leigh and Lawrence Olivier in "Romeo and Juliet" and in "Brother Rat."

One of the veterans of the "This Is The Army" cast now trouping with the "Varieties" is Sgt. Philip E. Truex, son of Ernest Truex, a headliner in stage and screen presentations. He appeared in children's roles in London at the age of 14 and went into stock at White Plains, N. Y. His Broadway advent was in 1933 and since that time he has appeared in many stage successes including "The Man Who Came to Dinner," playing the son's role. He organized the Camp Upton Opry House Players at the New York State Armory induction center and later was transferred to Fort Tilden, N. Y. to organize an entertainment unit at that military installation.

Nearly All Professionals

With a few exceptions the entire cast took part in stage and screen productions were masters of ceremonies or night club entertainers before donning their uniforms, and 11 of the performers were in the original cast of the stage and screen production of "This Is the Army." The unit is under direct supervision of the special services branch and Major Joseph F. Goets.

Capt. Clay A. Rambeau, chief of the entertainment unit of the special services branch, air service command at Patterson Field, director of the show and himself a former vaudevillian, expressed the pleasure of the men of the cast in coming to Marion and extended greetings from Major General Walter H. Frank, commanding general of the Air Service command.

During his talk Capt. Rambeau called Sgt. Chuck Gagnon to the front of the stage and announced the birth of a daughter to the sergeant and Mrs. Gagnon, in California. The day also marked Sgt. Gagnon's birthday anniversary. The telegram announcing the birth was received by the sergeant after his arrival here and Capt. Rambeau suggested naming the new arrival "Marion."

Travel in Busses

The cast travels in two large government busses and the show carries its own stage crew, make-up men and technicians. The "Varieties" have been meeting with huge success in each city the performers have visited and it is the hope of the cast and sponsors to add between eight and 10 million dollars to the bond sale.

Capacity houses have greeted the performers at Hamilton, Dayton and other cities in which the show has appeared. An extensive schedule has been outlined including appearances at Cincinnati, Columbus and a number of other Ohio cities.

Members of the cast were entertained at dinner at Hotel Harding preceding the performances last night.

Completing the evenings entertainment was the picture "The Miracle of Morgan's Creek" starring Betty Hutton and Eddie Bracken.

BOND SALE

Several method of purchase are being suggested in the drive:

1—Outright purchase with full cash payment.

2—Completed war stamp book.

3—Partially filled war stamp books with cash difference.

4—Withdrawals from school savings accounts for full amount or for difference when used with partially filled war stamp books. If this plan is used, a signed withdrawal slip and the pupil's school savings bank book will be sent to the bank where a withdrawal will be made for the purchase of the bond.

Teachers of each building are to organize the two-day sale among their pupils in any way they wish. Last year, most of the buildings had home room teachers receive the applications, check the applications and money and place the blanks and money in separate envelopes for each child.

Harding High school will not participate in the drive, having carried on its own separate bond drive for several weeks through the Student Council organization.

Assisting Mr. Gabier, general chairman, in handling the city-wide school drive are Miss Alice Dombaugh, Miss Philomen Gregg, C. E. Emmons, Paul Bingman and Miss Elma Houser.

LaRue Auction Set for Thursday Night

Final plans were being made today at LaRue for a war bond auction Thursday night at the school auditorium that will wind up the two-day LaRue Community Institute.

Food, fresh from the farms in the LaRue area, will go on the auction block and actually will be given away to persons who in competitive bidding agree to buy the most war bonds for the various items as they are put up for sale.

Lewis Wickersham of Marion will be the auctioneer and his wares will include chickens, eggs, cakes and other items of food.

LaRue talent and three guest speakers will be on the program, starting at 8 o'clock. The speakers will be Flight Lieut. Fred Collins of Marion, an officer in England's Royal Air Force now on duty at the AAF Specialized Depot at the Scioto Ordnance Plant, Mrs. Ralph Glass of LaRue, a native of South America who recently became the bride of a LaRue man now in military service, and Paul E. Rizor of Mt. Victory, wounded in North Africa.

The LaRue's Men's quartet, consisting of Ralph Amstutz, Rev. Warren Bright, Ivan Cooper and Harley Kramp, will sing. The program will be presented by Harold Hodson as chairman.

ing infantry infiltrations—and unfailing supply for one infantry could come only from a "consolidated "beachhead.

The decision for the allies appears to have lain between playand their luck and striking out boldly as soon as they rolled ashore, or discounting luck and establishing a firm base before making a real effort to advance.

Their luck probably would not have been good enough. Observers here said "we're up against crack German outfits in Italy."

There is indication that the allies do not count Rome a sufficiently valuable prize to assume the risk of heavy casualties to get it—they will move as fast as careful preparation will permit, but leave the bold stroke to commanders of larger forces, aiming at greater objectives.

City Withholding Tax Proposed in Columbus

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8 — A municipal one per cent withholding payroll tax for the last six months of 1944 was proposed today by Mayor James A. Rhodes and all but two of the city's seven councilmen.

Rhodes and five councilmen said in a statement they had agreed upon a payroll tax to meet a 1943 deficit and that formal legislation would be presented to council as soon as a program could be completed.

LEADERS OF UNION RESPOND TO ORDER

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—Matthew Smith, leader of the Mechanics Education Society of America (MESA), was expected to come to Washington today to explain to the war labor board (WLB) why penalties should not be imposed upon his organization for refusing to terminate strikes promptly in about 44 Ohio and Michigan war plants.

Smith, who is of British birth is secretary of the MESA but, as in British labor union practice, is the recognized leader.

The MESA national administrative committee called off the strike yesterday and appointed a group of ten, including Smith and president George White, to attend today's WLB hearing. Both Smith and White were under subpoena.

The board's hearing amounts to an appeal to public opinion, because it has few direct enforcement powers. Smith may use the hearing for a similar appeal and seek support for his contention that unions unaffiliated with the AFL and the CIO have a right to representation in government deliberations, particularly in tripartite agencies like the A where AFL and CIO representatives presume to speak for labor.

Amazing Cough Relief, Mixed In Your Kitchen
No Trouble. No Cooking. Saves Big Dollars.
Yes, ma'am, right in your own kitchen, you can easily mix a cough medicine that is a wonder for quick results, and gives you about four times as much for your money. And it's no trouble—a child could do it.
You'll need a syrup. Make it by stirring 2 cups of granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.
Now get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, and pour it into a pint bottle. Then add your syrup. There you have a full pint of really remarkable medicine for coughs due to colds. It lasts a family a long time. Tastes fine—children love it.
And does it do the work! You'll say it beats anything you ever tried. It loosens the phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and helps clear the air passages. Eases the soreness, and lets you rest at night.
Pinex is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, well known for prompt action on throat and bronchial membranes. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

Disney Artists Give Talks at 3 Schools

Two representatives of the Walt Disney studios in Burbank, Calif., were in Marion schools this morning, giving the students an insight into the production and construction of animated-drawing films.

Don Graham, director of the Walt Disney training school in Los Angeles and Dick Mitchell, one of Disney's artist-animators, gave half-hour programs before student assemblies at Central, Vernon and Edison Junior High schools. Graham lectured concerning the development and processes involved in the production of animated cartoons while Mitchell sketched various of the Disney characters, illustrating such procedures as change of expression and personality in the caricatures.

The two film representatives were accompanied by Gordon Graham of radio station WLW, under whose auspices as well as those of RKO pictures and Disney Productions the tour is being made. The occasion of their visit is the re-opening of the Disney film "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs" here at the Palace theater on Feb. 24.

LIONS CLUB HEARS CINCINNATI MAYOR

Post-War Plans Outlined by Gubernatorial Candidate.

About 150 persons including Lions club members, their wives and guests were present at a banquet Monday night in the ballroom of Hotel Harding.

A three-part post-war plan was given by the guest speaker, James G. Stewart, mayor of Cincinnati and a candidate for the Republican nomination for governor. His plan included the winning of the war, winning of the peace and the interim between the peace and normal prosperity. He stated the first two were of paramount importance, but during the post-war period immediately following the peace it would be necessary for each community to busy themselves with useful public works in an effort to restore a normalcy in living.

Highlighting the evening was the presentation of a casting rod to Bud Lawson in recognition of his catching the largest bass in Marion county during the past season. The presentation was made by John F. Lacey, president, followed by an acceptance speech by Mr. Lawson.

Group singing was led by Frank Barnhill with Dick Probst playing the piano accompaniment. Joe O'Connor was chairman for the banquet arrangements. French Crow, a guest, introduced the speaker.

New Nurses' Aid Course Is Launched Here by Red Cross

Women with an aptitude for caring for the sick, but who, because of establishing their own homes or entering other professions have given no time to nursing, either as a career or part-time avocation, are asked to help out with the wartime program by registering in the third nurses' aide course to be sponsored by the National Red Cross. A call for volunteers is being issued by the nurses' aide committee of the local chapter, headed by Mrs. J. A. Dodd. The class will be sponsored by the Women's auxiliary of the Marion Academy of Medicine.

Urgently Needed

The need for nurses' aides is most urgent, the sponsors state, and it is vitally important that the course get under way as soon as possible. Mrs. H. F. Ogden, who instructed a class graduated shortly before the holidays, will conduct the course which will get under way just as soon as sufficient registrations are received.

The classes will be held in the afternoon with the study periods conducted at the Red Cross office and the practice lessons at the City hospital. Registrants may apply in person at the Red Cross office or may call the office at 2439, or the chairman, Mrs. Dodd, at 6241.

The course is in preparation for service in emergencies at the local hospitals, casualty stations and first aid posts. The course consists of two units with a total of 80 hours. The first 35 hours are spent in classroom work and theory and the remaining 45 hours in practical experience in the hospital under the supervision of registered nurses.

Uniform Provided

Upon completion of the first 35 hours of study the aide receives her uniform of a blue chambray jumper apron worn over a regulation white blouse and upon completion of the practical study receives her cap. Service stripes are added at intervals upon completion of 150 hours of work. The nurses aide is one of the eight special volunteer services of the Red Cross and the worker serves without pay.

To enroll in the course the candidate must be a graduate of a high school or its equivalent and express a willingness to give a minimum of 150 hours of service a year without remuneration.

Members of the two previous classes are on call for duty at the City hospital.

Good Laugh Helps Americans Crash Through Nazi Line

By REYNOLDS PACKARD

Representing the Combined American Press, Distributed by The Associated Press

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY ON THE ANZIO BEACHHEAD FRONT, Feb. 6—(Delayed)—After four attempts had failed, the Americans got to laughing on the fifth charge and cracked through the barbed wire entanglements—chuckling as they risked their lives and sprayed death with tommyguns.

When it was over, 34 Germans had been killed.

Lt. Edward Kennedy of Holyoke, Mass., one of the officers in this attack which broke through an important enemy flank position on this beachhead, said "that laugh came just at the right psychological moment. Maybe we never would have gotten through on the fifth charge if it hadn't been for the humor of it."

Kennedy then explained how Lt. Richard La Riviere from Williamsett, Mass., was leading one American unit.

Four times La Riviere and his men tried to cut through under enemy machinegun fire and the fifth time La Riviere got caught by the seat of his trousers, and was literally suspended in midair by the barbed wire.

He laughed, and his men laughed.

Kennedy continued:

"He then ordered his men to keep charging, saying 'I'm not stopping even if I have to leave these blanket-blank pants behind.'

"It was just that little bit of laughter all around that may have turned the tide of battle. The men went through mowing down the Germans before them—laughing with La Riviere as they went. It didn't take La Riviere long to get unhooked."

Kennedy estimated that this particular battle in which 34 Germans were killed lasted only 30 minutes.

SOME DISCHARGED SOLDIERS REDRAFTED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—Men wounded in action, discharged and then fully recovered, are being drafted again, it was disclosed yesterday, and the war department took cognizance of the situation by ordering the veterans to be given their old ranks.

Some sergeants and corporals, it was said, had found themselves back in uniform as privates, after reasons for their original discharge no longer existed.

Selective service regulations permit re-drafting of veterans who again qualify. Some men wounded at Attu and at Faid Pass in the Tunisian campaign have been recalled by their local boards, the Army said.

Lowering of physical standards also has prompted the war department to order commanding officers to exhaust all possibilities before discharging enlisted men. Thousands have been released, it was said, for physical disabilities that now would not stand in the way of induction.

Draft rules require a serviceman to report his status to his draft board upon discharge.

An Army spokesman said men who had been overseas, were discharged, and reinducted, probably would not be sent to foreign assignments again.

Two Enrolled By Ministerial Group

Two new members were welcomed in a meeting of the Marion County Ministerial association in the Y.M.C.A. Monday morning. They were Capt. Mary Nisiewicz and Lt. Marjorie Sipley of the Salvation Army, who took over their duties at the local citadel last fall.

Rev. E. H. Wierth reported for the committee on chaplaincy for City hospital. The association voted to appoint a chaplain from the group each month to visit patients in the hospital who are without affiliation with any local church bodies. Rev. H. C. Ahrens, chairman of the evangelistic committee, was authoried to make plans for noonday services to be held in downtown Marion during Holy week. A discussion of the Ohio Pastors convention held recently in Columbus included reports on various sessions and issues given by Rev. J. R. Dallas, Dr. Warren P. Behan, Rev. E. M. Hertzler, Rev. Wierth, Rev. Ahrens and Rev. Eldred Johnston.

BRICKER MAY ASK FUNDS FOR PARKS

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8—Gov. Bricker said yesterday he might ask the legislature to make an outright appropriation for purchase of state parks, a function denied the post-war planning commission by a supreme court decision.

Bricker said he thought it might be well to grant the money—he did not say how much—to the conservation department or the department of public works, subject to approval of the emergency board.

An act setting up the post-war planning commission gave it authority to spend up to $400,000 in acquisition of parks, but the supreme court held last week the commission had no right to exercise such a function.

No decision will be reached, Bricker told his press conference, until after he confers with legislative leaders.

The governor will leave Wednesday night for Washington where he addresses the Republican congressional delegation at a Lincoln day dinner Thursday. He will return Friday and on Saturday go to Toledo to introduce Gov. Edward Martin of Pennsylvania at a Lincoln day dinner there.

Bricker will be accompanied to Washington by Mrs. Bricker, his secretary, Robert L. Barton, and John W. Gailbreath and Roy D. Moore, his presidential campaign managers.

WILLKIE MAY ENTER PRIMARY IN OHIO

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, Feb. 8 — Prospects that Wendell L. Willkie will enter Ohio's May primary to contest with Gov. Bricker for delegates to the Republican national convention increased today after a Cleveland industrialist announced he had been authorized to prepare a list of possible candidates.

Robert A. Weaver, president of the Ferro Enamel Corp. of Cleveland, said he had been "authorized in Mr. Willkie's name to prepare lists of candidates for delegates to the Republican national convention for him to choose from if he decides to enter the May primary in Ohio."

Weaver added he had talked to the 1940 Republican presidential nominee last week and had been told to begin a canvass of possible candidates at once as only a month remains for preparation of nominating petitions and their filing with the secretary of state at Columbus.

Willkie plans to contest the Nebraska and Wisconsin primaries and Weaver said he was advised the decision on whether Willkie will enter the Ohio race will hinge on whether he has time to make a proper campaign in the state.

EQUAL OPPORTUNITIES URGED FOR ALL PEOPLES

Ohio Wesleyan Professor Speaks at Epworth Forum

"All people must have an opportunity for self expression and self development if the world is to have a lasting peace," was the idea summing up the message of Prof. G. W. Sarvis of Ohio Wesleyan university Sunday night in the fourth of a series of Sunday night services devoted to the theme, "Building a Christian Post-War World." The service was held in Epworth Methodist church and E. E. Holt, superintendent of Marion city schools, presided for the forum period.

Dr. Sarvis' subject was "The Minorities and the Peace." He pointed out that three kinds of minorities, social, political and racial, must be given an opportunity for equality with peoples who have had superior opportunities. The social minorities, the backward peoples of any nation, must be given an opportunity for development, political minorities such as the Latin American countries must be given proportionate equality with the United States in world affairs and the racial "class system" in this country and other countries must be broken down in order to insure real peace, he declared.

Dean J. J. Somerville of O.W.U. will speak next Sunday night on "The [illegible] of [illegible] Peace." Because of [illegible] attending the service will be in First Presbyterian church instead of in First U. B church as scheduled.

Atmosphere of Misunderstanding

NEWSPAPERS are understandably pleased when their point of view on the job they try to perform in the United States finds expression in the remarks of someone not identified with the publishing business. The function of a free press is not, after all, something that can be dissociated from its bearing on the processes of representative democracy. Every citizen of the country should understand what is at stake.

Gov. Bricker's address to the Ohio Newspaper association last Friday night revealed a full grasp of the permanent principles of a free press and radio and their application to current situation, with particular regard to the atmosphere of misunderstanding which has been created by certain attitudes and policies of the Roosevelt administration.

These attitudes and policies have been intended to create distrust of the press and skepticisms about its exercise of the right to be critical of government. To some extent, perhaps, they have succeeded, though the press has been dealing so long with politicians who run for editor that it has learned to accept them as a constant factor in its operation; the radio, though younger, apparently is heir to the same attitude.

Gov. Bricker recognizes what is obvious, that political power instinctively resents the curbs of a watchful press and seeks to dispense with them. The more unscrupulous trustees of the power would like to destroy the independence of the press and exploit it and all other agencies of information for their own advantage, as is done by authoritarian regimes. The governor calls attention to the dangers inherent in wartime censorship, in the concentration of power in the executive branch of the government and in the Roosevelt administration's use of the press for its own propaganda purposes.

His observations constitute a well rounded presentation of the problems of a free press and radio as these agencies of information, themselves, see them—and are trying to solve them. They have the added merit in his case of coming from a public figure whose viewpoint on the situation is objective.

Rallying a Nation's Resolution

GEN. MARSHALL, army chief of staff; Adm. King, commander in chief of the navy; Chairman Land of the maritime commission and the acting secretaries of war and navy, Robert P. Patterson and Ralph A. Bard have combined their voices in a plea for unprecedented effort to back up the nation's fighting forces.

Their call for unprecedented effort on the home front is the strongest that could be made, short of a major statement by the chief executive. There is not the slightest doubt of their earnestness. These men, who bear the immediate responsibility for the climactic events at hand, are doing everything in their power to rally the nation's resolution.

Every thoughtful citizen understands the importance of what they are trying to do. Every family with a member in the services joins those spokesmen of the fighting forces calling for redoubled efforts to give American men maximum support in the weeks and months immediately ahead. This is not propaganda, or an exercise in oratory. This is reality.

These men are honestly convinced there is urgent need at this moment for special exhortation. Except for Gen. Marshall and Adm. King, they say drastic new public authority—a national service act—is imperative for generating the fullest possible war production and convincing our fighting forces that the whole nation stands staunchly behind them.

It is unfortunate that their earnestness is not being accompanied by specific proposals to enable the public to respond to it. Aside from the recommendation for a national service act, there is nothing the people can get their teeth into—there is nothing tangible in the leadership offered. The service act proposal, even if widespread doubts of its efficacy could be dissolved overnight, is a legislative problem, not something the people can accomplish.

The people, Gen. Marshall, will back the army to the limit. Their sons, brothers, husbands and their friends are in it. The people, Adm. King, want to even the score for Pearl Harbor. The people, Mr. Patterson and Mr. Bard, will not let you down. The people, Chairman Land, want to get the war over with in a hurry. The people have given you everything you are working with, and they'll give you everything else you need if they only know what's wanted.

So They Say—

We in America believe that our profit system operated by private enterprise, can outproduce, plant for plant, any government monopoly in the world.—Eric A. Johnston, president United States Chamber of Commerce.

Were it not for continuing attacks against the production capacity of German aircraft factories, the difficulties which must be overcome by Allied air attackers and also by amphibious invaders would be incalculably greater.—Air Forces Gen. H. H. Arnold.

The Japanese are not strong in the engineering of automotive vehicles. The quality margin between our weapons and the Japanese will grow wider as the war progresses.—Ordnance Maj. Gen. G. M. Barnes.

News Behind the News

Pressure Politics in Moscow Moves Called Contrary to Spirit of Teheran Parley.

By PAUL MALLON

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—The story is told among United Nations diplomats that the Vatican summoned the American charge a few weeks ago to tell him it looked with perturbation upon the possibility of a Communist-dominated or influenced government being established in Italy.

The story could be true, and is accepted as such. Authorities here naturally will neither confirm nor deny.

But the Anglo-Russo-American agreement specifically provides for representation of minorities in the new Italian government, (Communists being the main one) although it does not even call for an election. The Pope could well be disturbed.

At any rate, the story leaked to Stalin, and immediately thereafter, the Pope was mysteriously attacked as a "Fascist" without explanation by one of Stalin's so-called journalists in one of Moscow's so-called newspapers, (Izvestia.)

Halifax Speech

Similarly, Lord Halifax, the British ambassador, made a Toronto speech calling for a closer-knit post-war British empire in order to keep Britain from being minimized by "the giants like the United States, Russia and China."

Immediately thereafter, Stalin's supreme Soviet (parliament) unanimously got and adopted the idea of dividing Russia into 16 individual republics for international purposes only.

This action was the Moscow counter-pressure move, not particularly against the Halifax speech, but against its obviously authentic presentation of the current British official cabinet position (Halifax is a member of the war cabinet). That is the least—the very least, it was. That is the most optimistic construction which can be placed upon it.

Breakage Called Superficial

There was no natural reason why Russia should break into 16 states. The breakage is purely superficial. Moscow will continue to control, as always. Autonomy was always theoretically provided in the Russian constitution, and denied in fact.

Not even the domestic Communists have offered any justification for this new move other than the apparent diplomatic intention of Russia to take in Poland, the Baltics, Finland, even the Balkans, and perhaps Germany itself as an individual Communist republic, empowered to deal individually in foreign affairs and entitled to the delusion of maintaining its own inferior army.

The time has come to speak frankly, although our officials naturally cannot. They regard the Russian split, plus the attack on the Pope, the separate treaty with Czechoslovakia, the attack on Britain (suggesting she would make a separate peace,) the attack on Willkie—all as the greatest single development since the declaration of war.

While the polite published interpretations are "the least" of Russian intentions, the plain, unavoidable deduction must be that Russia, realizing her strength, intends to employ it to the fullest in postwar Europe, Asia, and the whole world.

Diplomatic Pressure

Obviously, she does not believe her socio-collectivist way of life is the democratic way, and she intends to promote her way and her self-interest in her customary diplomatic pressure vein against the wishes of friends (Britain, Willkie, et al) as well as foes.

If Moscow is reaching the state of mind where a democrat or non-Communist is a Fascist, she is aligning herself against the rest of the world, combating Britain, the Vatican, Willie and us. She is certainly taking a lot of it. The "most" that this could mean will be evident to everyone without being specifically stated.

This alarming interpretation seems unavoidable in view of the fact that she has so soon abandoned the conference table and negotiation, for the field of pressure politics and empire building of her own.

These very diplomatic acts she has already committed violate the spirit of Teheran, the spirit of negotiation and friendly agreement, in favor of antagonistic conflict for self-interest.

Moscow must either change her tune, or she will soon hear a new tune from Washington as well as London.

Home-Made Propaganda

Hitler does not need propagandists in the United States. Too many Americans are ready to imagine the worst of all possibilities or impossibilities. In that category is a lady who came to me with the rumor that "they are not going to pay off on Series E bonds, but only on the others."

Ther are 60,000,000 American citizens now holding war bonds, nearly half the census of men, women and children. Do you think this government is ever going against the invested wishes of half of its people?

All bonds will be paid off. They will have to be. The whole future of this country is now bound with the sound maintenance of the war debts in bonds. No government in the future will ever permit the slightest impairment of those investments unless it wants a revolution.

Need Seen To Help Pave Way for France To Become Strong European Power.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

AFTER prolonged consideration, it now seems to be settled that we shall treat with the French Committee of National Liberation, of which Gen. De Gaulle is the president, as the governing authority in continental France. The decision is the only possible decision.

The committee is, in fact, the government of the second largest colonial empire in the world. It now governs all French territory not in the hands of the enemy. It commands a very considerable army which will be needed for the invasion of Europe, and it is without any doubt the rallying point and directing head of the organized resistance inside France, which we shall count upon heavily when our forces land.

It has become evident that some one must govern French territory as the Germans are driven out of it. Gen. Eisenhower can not govern France. We could certainly not dream of doing business with Petain, Laval or the old national assembly which abdicated its powers to the Vichy usurpers.

It has become none the less evident that it would be meaningless to talk about letting the French nation choose its own government if somebody is not recognized as having the right and the power to call the elections, print the ballots, register the voters and count the votes.

We Need France

These would be in themselves sufficient reasons for dealing with the French committee in making the plans for the invasion. But they are not by any means the only reasons. Hard experience will teach us, if we do not have the statesmanship to anticipate it, that without France as their partner, Great Britain and the United States are unable to achieve a workable European policy during the war, or to bring about an effective settlement of the war.

The absence of France from our councils is a very important reason why British-American diplomacy in the Mediterranean, the Balkans and Poland is becoming less and less in accord with the realities and less and less effective.

Our inability to see that the France of DeGaulle is a large sample of the spirit and substance of the active life of Europe has blinded our judgment. Since we could not appreciate French DeGaullism, we have been unable to appraise correctly the same forces in other countries.

Our trouble has not been that we dealt with the Darlans or the little kings as temporary military expedients; it has been that we did not see beyond the expedients, and did not prepare for the day when we should need to work with the men who, because they are the effective resistance of the enemy, will hold the effective power when the enemy collapses.

With the downfall of Germany, the most important power in Europe, outside of Russia, will be France. It would be a capital mistake to suppose that western

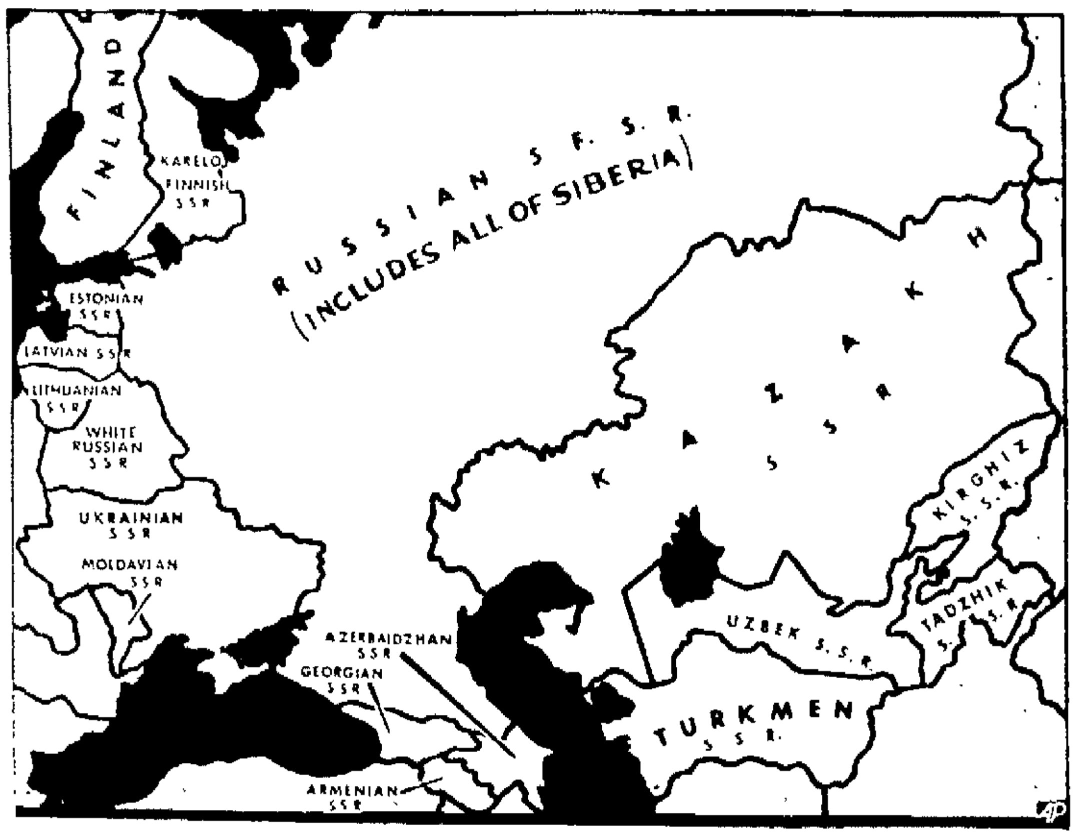
New Powers for Russia's Republics



MELTING POT—Russia's 16 republics (shown above) contain 48 minority nationalities.

By NED NORDNESS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON—The move by the Supreme Soviet (parliament) which empowered the 16 republics within the Soviet Union to deal directly with other countries is recognition of national status for 48 minority nationalities.

The 49th nationality is Russian—58.41 per cent of the total population.

Following the last World War and subsequent revolution in Russia, considerable doubt was expressed whether these diversified 49 peoples could form a united government.

Foreign Commissar Molotov, who proposed the new powers for the republics, has replied to this question some 25 years later with the assertion that the move demonstrates the strength of the Soviet Union.

The ethnic character of the Soviet Union graphically illustrates Russia's expansion for the past several hundred years. The outer fringes with the exception of the north boundary, are populated with non-Russian nationalities.

15 Form "Buffer"

The largest republic is the Russian Soviet Federated Socialist Republic itself. The 15 other republics form a buffer between Russia and continental Europe, running from Finland in the northwest straight southward to the Balkans, then swinging east between the Asia Minor countries.

The dominant nationalities in the republics are Ukrainians, White Russians, Georgians, Caucasians, Letts, Lithuanians, Turkomans, Finns, Lapps, Karelians, Sarts, Rumanians, Kirghiz, Armenians, Bashkirs, Uzbegs and Azerbaidzhanians.

Of these smaller republics, only Ukrainian S.S.R. abounds in natural resources, industries and agriculture. The others must of necessity be bound to each other or Russian S.S.R.

The Russian republic includes 78 per cent of the territory of the Soviet Union. It has every natural resource within its borders, heavy industrial and agricultural areas.

Little is known as yet of the actual powers of these republics now that they can handle their own foreign affairs and raise their own army units. Theoretically, the fare completely independent. They could wage war on other countries or each other. They could make whatever treaties they chose and form whatever foreign policy deemed advisable.

Viewed Practically

Actually it is not believed their power is intended, nor is it expected to reach such dimensions. Practically, it is believed that an individual republic may arrange its own border laws with another country, negotiate trade routes for itself, etc.

Some hint as to the policy of the new republics was given by Dr. Johannes Vares, president of the Estonian republic, who asserted "diplomats of the national republics will be guided in their work by the general principles of Soviet diplomacy."

The United States has not as yet recognized Estonia, Lithuania and Latvia as a part of the U.S.S.R. They joined the Soviet Union in 1940 by plebiscite vote.

The Supreme Soviet still holds forth at Moscow. Each republic is represented and none of the powers of this body nor those of Stalin and other important government officials have diminished.

The Supreme Soviet, sanctioned by the 1936 constitution, meets twice a year. Members of its two chambers are elected from the 16 republics for four years. The two bodies elect a presidium of president, 16 vice presidents and 24 committee members who have wide administrative powers.

The Communist Party's central committee selects any executive body as a political bureau which formulates policies closely followed by the government.

Playing in the snow was almost as

Undefeated Teams Find Going Getting Tougher Each Game

BY HAROLD HARRISON
Ohio AP Sports Editor

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8—The job of staying in the undefeated class is getting tougher and tougher as the time for Ohio high school basketball tournament competition draws nearer.

If any proof is needed a quick glance through last week's results will provide the evidence.

Canton St. John, Columbus Rosary, New Knoxville and Dresden found the pace too hot and suffered their first setbacks of the campaign.

There were no signs, however, of any letup by Newark's class A state champions. The Wildcats rolled to their 15th straight victory by drubbing Columbus West, 58 to 37 and they now have a string of 28 consecutive triumphs over the last two seasons.

Canton St. John's 49 to 47 defeat at the hands of Waynesburg was a double overtime affair but only the failure of the horn on the electric clock prevented Waynesburg from winning in the first extra heat. Chuck Thompson knotted the count for St. John's after the three minutes had elapsed but officials ruled the goal counted since the end-of-play signal had not sounded. Columbus Rosary was beaten by Columbus St. Charles and New Knoxville was nosed out by Waynesfield.

11-Game Streak Ends

Dresden's 11-game winning streak was snapped by Philo, 48 to 39, and the winners accomplished the feat by the simple method of tying up Dave Gray, Dresden's high scorer. Gray, who has been averaging 21 points a game, was held to two points.

All of which left Covington and Ashville as the "winningest" teams with 15 straight triumphs each.

York, the defending champ in class B, continued to move [illegible] at the expense of other teams in that group, although the York [illegible] were having lot of trouble [illegible] A quintet. York's 25 to 21 conquest of Ada avenged the only defeat suffered this season by York at the hands of a class B team.

The continuation of Martins Ferry's unbroken winning streak was marked by one more high scoring effort by 6 foot 5 inch Alex Groza, who poured in 32 points in two contests. Groza is hitting the hoop at an average of slightly better than 23 points a game.

Max Kephart of Middle Point, another lad who is doing right well in the field goal department, gathered in 22 more points as his team racked up its 14th victory without a defeat by walloping York, 36 to 28.

Plenty of Oddities

The week's competition wasn't without its oddities, either.

Lima South decided the best way to beat Middletown would be to retain possession of the ball and hold the score down. It didn't quite work because Middletown finally copped a 16 to 13 decision. The half-time score was 2 to 0, Middletown, and the winners had only two shots in the first two quarters.

Richland county had more than its share of strange happenings. Madison edged out Lucas, 31 to 30, in three overtimes and the winning point came on a technical foul. John Welty, a Lucas veteran of three seasons, went into the game in the third overtime without reporting and Jack Selby promptly connected on the free toss. All of Union's first string team went out of the game on personal fouls as Butler romped to a 42 to 13 victory.

Ironton had to finish its game with Ashland (Ky.) with only four players on the floor but still won, 29 to 18. Ironton lost four players on personals in the final quarter.

The current list of undefeated teams reads something like this:

15—Covington, Ashville. 14—Enon, Newark, Middlepoint, Canton Timken, Martins Ferry. 13—Findlay. 12—Tipp City. 11—Bellevue, Toledo De Vilbiss, Bluffton, Cincinnati St. Xavier, Cincinnati Wayne. 8—Sabina.

The 95 points Bluffton scored against Ada boosted its scoring average to 68.5 a game.

CAGE TOURNAMENT PROTESTS HEARD

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., Feb. 8—H. R. Townsend, Commissioner of the Ohio High School Athletic association, said today schools which still were dissatisfied with the state's basketball tournament setup would get their next chance to offer protests and suggestions at a board meeting next September.

Townsend made the statement after a protest by Howard L. Grimes, secretary of the Millcreek Valley League of Hamilton county, over the 1944 plan of having exempted village and parochial schools placed in one bracket for the sectional tournaments.

"We're going to try and profit by our experience this year and then we'll see what can be done," Townsend said.

Under the 1944 tournament plan, the exempted village and parochial schools which are not invited to play in the county tournaments will be placed, insofar as possible, in the same bracket in their sectionals. The county teams, which have advanced through their own tournaments, will be in the other bracket.

Grimes said the Millcreek protest was based on the contention county teams would have greater "tournament seasoning" and that the present arrangements would make it possible for weaker teams to reach the finals.

"This applies to both brackets," he said, "which makes for a weaker tournament.

"All that we desire is to be placed on an equal basis with the other schools in the state. We are anxious to see that the best teams get to the finals of each tournament. Only in this way can we have a good state tournament."

Grimes suggested exempted village and parochial schools conduct their own tournaments at the same time as the county meets and that the survivors of both events then move into sectional competition.

Mulvaine Sets Fast Pace on Army Team

By CHARLES ELLIOTT

Army life hasn't hampered the expert playing style of Dick Mulvaine, who as a Marion Presidents [illegible] one of the [illegible] of individual scoring records in the local Central Ohio [illegible] during [illegible]

[illegible] the 354th Ordnance [illegible], Fort Bliss, Tex.

From Fort Bliss comes [illegible] that Dick is the big gun of the outstanding league. He established a new mark for scoring in one game as he tallied 31 in a [illegible] with the 51st Headquarters [illegible]. But Dick has played consistently [illegible] season, posting a 25.1 point average per game, compiled on 176 markers posted in seven contests.

In the game with the 51st group, Mulvaine's team, [illegible], was [illegible] 53 to 44 despite Dick's big 31-point splurge.

Mulvaine's record of 190 points [illegible] N. C. O. league [illegible] regards [illegible] year a Ted Jacobs of [illegible] 108 counters in [illegible] tilts. He has three more games to play [illegible] to pass the 200 figure and [illegible] exceed Mulvaine's mark.

SHE WON THE RECENT HELEN LEE DOHERTY TROPHY TOURNAMENT FROM A STRONG FIELD AND NOW HAS HER MIND SET ON CAPTURING THE WESTERN AMATEUR NEXT SUMMER
MARJORIE ROW, 22-YEAR-OLD BLOND, BUILDING UP A NAME FOR HERSELF ON THE LINKS

In a letter to his father, Elmer Mulvaine of 320 Wilson street, Dick enclosed the following excerpts from stories printed in the sports section of the Fort Bliss News, regular publication of Fort Bliss. An account of his 31-point spurt reads like this:

"Quite a night. Dick Mulvaine center for the 354th Ordnance basketeers set an individual scoring record for one contest last Tuesday night in their game with the 51st group Headquarters cagers. During the game the towering center found the net for 31 points, and at the same time was playing on the losing team. The 51st group won the game, 53 to 44."

The Fort Bliss News of Jan. 13 carried this story:

"Four outstanding basketball players caught the fancy of reporter Bill Moore of the Fort Bliss News last week. One of the players was Dick Mulvaine. His accuracy in long shots made up a lot of the difference in the game last week. He hit the net for 22 points during the sortee. The outstanding play of Mulvaine for the 354th Ordnance was the outstanding feature of the contest. He consistently took control of the ball on defensive play in the opponents' zone. It was Mulvaine who knotted the score in the closing second of the game. In the first overtime period, both teams made three points, and again the score was tied, 45-all. In the second overtime, the 322nd scored a fast basket and the luckless Ordnance five was unable to find the net during the second overtime and the AAATC team took the game, 47 to 45."

After graduation from Harding High school last spring, Mulvaine enrolled in Bowling Green State university, where he had hopes of carrying on his basketball playing. However, the draft caught up with him in September, when he was inducted.

Here's a little food for thought concerning the 1943-44 N. C. O. basketball struggle, which is rapidly approaching the climactic stage. Marion and Ashland are deadlocked for first place but their comparative offensive and defensive records present an idea of the different styles of play employed by the two teams. Marion has averaged 38.8 points per game, while holding her opponents to 31.8, the league's best defensive showing.

Ashland boasts the biggest scoring slate, having chalked up an average of 67.7 points a game, which, if maintained, should cop a few blue ribbons. However, the A's have been scored upon at a rate of 40.8 markers a game. Bucyrus, third place team, has marked up a 42.2 average to her foes' 40.7.

Galion and Mt. Vernon, tied for fourth position, differ in records but not nearly to the extent of Harding and Ashland. Galion has made 39.7 a game while allowing her opponents 47.2. The Mounties coached by Jack Robeson have tabulated a 32.7 to 42.5 standing. The hapless Shelby Whippets, in their cellar with one victory and six setbacks, have scored the equivalent of 35.1 points each time they have taken the floor. The Whippets' defensive record, however, is the league's worst, being 52.1 points.

It was previously mentioned that Ted Jacobs of the Ashland Hilltoppers should handily smash the N. C. O. scoring mark set by Mulvaine. Ruffy Harris, the A's invaluable guard, also has a chance, although remote, to finish the season beyond Mulvaine's 190 figure. He has made 130 points in seven games. In order to get 190 he would have to average 20 points in each of Ashland's three remaining N. C. O. games.

Vic Dorris, Harding High physical education director and head football coach, who is still 1-A, expects to get his call for his final physical examination for the Army this week, possibly tomorrow, but more likely Friday. Lane McCrate, head grid and basketball mentor at Marion St. Mary also is due for his physical. He looks for it toward the end of this month.

Galion High school will hold its annual physical education demonstration March 3. Harding High will be one of the principal participants. According to Coach Dorris, Harding will engage Galion, coached by Jimmy Lymper, in one of the few interscholastic wrestling and boxing meets ever staged by N. C. O. schools.

SNATCHES OF SPORTS

By HUGH FULLERTON, Jr.
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Feb. 8 — Opinion sampling: This corner recently mentioned the possibility of staging a post-war national collegiate baseball tournament, which would be in line with organized baseball's plans to build up the game in high and prep schools. ..We now present a few comments on the subject.

Votes For

From a southwestern college tub thumper: "Down here the boys fancy their baseball highly, but we have always assumed that the reason the college game is an orphan insofar as the NCAA is concerned was because the season ends before she commences .. In the post-war period we would be strongly in favor of a June intercollegiate."

From another: "It would be a fine thing. The only difficulty would be financing it. There are a few colleges that in peace times turn out fine clubs."

From a Denver newspaperman: "Both our sports editors liked the idea and Denver university 'would be tickled to see such a tournament organized.' ....The stumbling block here is that we have no facilities. There is no baseball diamond in D. U. stadium, that million-buck concrete monument to razzle-dazzle."

Objections Sustained

Apart from uncertain spring weather, uncertain gate receipts and short seasons that end before interest reaches a peak, the principal objection to big-time college baseball is that the football coaches don't want it..... Pointing out that Notre Dame, which used to produce plenty of big leagues, dropped from the baseball picture when Knute Rockne's grid teams hit the headlines, one minor league leader added: "College hurts a ball player. He doesn't get the competition he would in the minors."

The spirits of Irish Coach Lane McCrate and his youthful charges were bolstered last night when Dan McGinnis, St. Mary captain and leading scorer, showed up for practice at the Y. M. C. A. for the first time since rehearsals for the Mt. Gilead game. McGinnis has apparently almost fully recovered from the effects of a tetanus shot which he was given last week for a cut above his eye received in the Lima St. Gerard game more than a week ago.

The Irish will be seeking their ninth 1943-44 victory in 16 starts and are favored because of the return of McGinnis to the fold.

The St. Mary Junior Varsity team will be after its eighth victory in 12 games when its meets the Fostoria JayVees for the first time this year.

ALLIED PUGILISTS ARRIVE FOR FIGHTS

By The Associated Press

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, ALGIERS, Feb. 8—Allied pugilists of all weights and ranks began arriving today for their final tuneup for the free-for-all allied championship bouts scheduled to start in Algiers next Monday.

Many of the fighters, professional and amateur, were pulled out of the fighting fronts especially for these bouts. Some still wore the dirt of the bitter campaigning around the Cassino (Italy) sector when they checked into fight headquarters at nearby Palm Beach, a palm-fringed rest camp by the sea.

Corporal John H. Dorr, light heavyweight, of Columbus, O., is one good prospect.

There will be in all 84 finalists among American, British, French, Polish, Greeks and other allied troops. Each bout will consist of three two-minute rounds. In event of a draw an additional round will be fought.

M'SPADEN IS VICTOR OVER BYRON NELSON

By The Associated Press

PHOENIX, Ariz., Feb. 8—Harold (Jug) McSpaden, the Philadelphian who weighted his driving clubs and immediately became the top money winner in pro golf ranks, was Texas bound today after his sixth victory in the last nine major tournaments.

The latest triumph, worth a $1,000 war bond, came in the Phoenix open where McSpaden won his first 18-hole playoff. Runnerup Byron Nelson of Toledo, former national open and Professional Golf Association champion, received a $750 bond.

McSpaden carded a one-under par 70 yesterday to edge Nelson by two strokes. They finished the 72-hole open Sunday with 173s, eleven under par.

McSpaden credits his winning streak to the change in his driving clubs. "Six months ago I weighted and shortened them," he explained. "I'm not getting any more distance off the tee, but I can sure drive that ball where I want."

The 35-year-old McSpaden has been ordered to report for induction immediately following the San Antonio open tourney beginning Thursday.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"
Without Painful Backache

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

ASTP AND V-12 TESTS SCHEDULED

Set for March 15; To Be Held at Harding High School.

The third Army-Navy College Qualifying test for the Army Specialized training program and Navy V-12, which will be held throughout the country March 15, will be administered on March 15 at Harding High school. A. C. May, principal, announced today. A leaflet containing an admission-identification form may be obtained at the school. This form properly filled out will admit students between the ages of 17 and 21 to the test. Applicants must be high school graduates or seniors who will graduate before July 1. Anyone intending to enter has been asked to notify Mr. May in order that materials may be ordered.

Both Army and Navy candidates will take the same exam, which is designed to test the aptitude and general knowledge required for the program of college training. All qualified students are being urged by the Army and Navy to take the tests. At the time of the examination they will be given a service preference, but taking the test does not involve enlistment in either branch.

The Army Specialized training program is aimed to meet needs for specialists and technicians in certain critical fields of study. Academic work is at college level, and is carried on at government expense. The Navy College program also enables students to continue academic training. Successful completion of prescribed courses may, with further officer training, lead to a commission in the Navy.

U. S. Losses Kept Low by Powerful Opening Assault

By The Associated Press

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, Feb. 8—The most powerful American fleet ever thrown into battle, an airforce which drove the enemy from the skies and deadly accurate artillery fire struck with such coordinated fury in the Marshalls invasion that only 286 invaders were slain—against at least 8,122 Japanese.

Even including 82 Americans missing, that made it more than 20 Nipponese killed for each one of ours. The ratio is the more remarkable considering that this opening blow at the Marshalls was struck at Kwajalein atoll in the center and that the Japanese had been there for 25 years.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, announcing the figures yesterday, reported 1,148 Americans wounded. The number of Japanese taken prisoner also was unusually large, 264.

From all sources, in explanation of this success, the stress was on preparatory attacks.

"I've never seen anything like that air and sea bombardment," said Commander Anthony Kimmins, British royal navy observer.

The first observer to return from the invasion scene, commander Kimmins said the fire was so deadly ground troops had little to do but mop up.

Kimmins, going ashore after capture of the Roi air base and nearby dispersal and storage base of Namur, found "every square yard of ground churned and torn with debris...Twisted gruesome figures of dead Japs and their terrible stench."

At the southern end of the atoll, on Kwajalein island, William L. Worden, Associated Press war correspondent, reported:

"There were blockhouses here but they are now only twisted blocks of concrete and steel. Those which had been made of coconut logs and dirt are hard even to find. If they weren't literally blown apart, they were covered so that the men in them smothered."

One regiment found 100 dead Japanese during the first 500 yard advance.

Both Commander Kimmins and Worden observed the preparatory firing was so complete the shore was lined with dead fish.

Major Gen. Holland Smith, who directed all Marine and Army ground troops in the Kwajalein operations, told Leif Erickson, Associated Press war correspondent, the invaders have severed Japanese supply arteries in the Marshalls.

CHARGES PACKERS PENALIZE FARMERS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 8—An assertion that meat packers were shifting financial expenses created by excessive hog runs at this livestock market onto farmers was made today by the Baldwin Elevator Co. of Decatur, Ill. Packers denied the elevator company's claim.

Despite the fact a permission-to-market plan, designed to eliminate holdovers, has been in effect here more than two weeks, there still are many hogs which must be carried over each night for the next day's trade.

The Baldwin company declared "the packers are killing their own hogs first and allow the farmers to pay the expense * * * of holding the hogs over from one day to the next until the packers can get to them."

Most packers buy some hogs direct from the country. The Baldwin company said the packers were slaughtering "directs" and refusing to buy hogs sent by farmers for sale in the open market. One meat company replied recent holdovers have been caused mainly by a reduction in the demand from eastern buyers.

Another said, "we have bought hogs and carried them overnight at our expense, but we are not in the business of feeding pigs. We couldn't buy 'directs' if farmers didn't show their approval of that practice by selling them to us."

Sec. Hull Says America Drafts Armistice Terms

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—Secretary of State Hull said yesterday the state department is constantly exploring armistice terms to be imposed on Germany but that he does not know whether any information thus far compiled here has been submitted to the allied advisory commission in London.

At a press conference the secretary emphasized, however, that it is the task of the council to study armistice terms and suggested possibility some American proposals have been submitted.

The secretary declined to discuss what he called the delicate question of Russia's attitude toward Poland.

He described as a matter for the war department a request for information on allied plans to extend the area of southern Italy ruled by Marshal Pietro Badoglio under King Vittorio Emanuele.

CONSIDER ERECTION OF ROLL AT GALION

Special to The Star

GALION, Feb. 8—For the purpose of considering the erection of a permanent Honor Roll of World War II veterans at Heise park, a committee of six leaders of Galion Civic organizations met this week at the American Legion Home.

Fire Chief H. F. Kile, representing the department and the city, stated that the present honor roll which is located at the City building, will be maintained, and will be covered with glass for protection against the weather for the duration.

Present for the committee meeting were: M. C. McElroy, representing Kiwanis and the Junior Chamber of Commerce; M. D. Bonsteel of Rotary; Paul E. Nollen of Kiwanis; Arthur Manzer of the Galion Merchants association; L. D. Crissinger, E. R. Rehm, Lawrence Neumann and E. J. Boyer of the American Legion. McElroy acted as chairman for the meeting.

Basswood, poplar and cottonwood are among the so-called hardwoods, yet they are really the softest of woods.

TEACHER CORPS CHANGES MADE

Appointments and Transfers Acted on at School Board Meeting.

Several teacher appointments and transfers were acted on by the city school board at a meeting in the school administration building Monday afternoon.

Resignation of Miss Ruth Emery as a teacher at Main Street, effective last month, was officially accepted and Mrs. Evelyn Manter of Marion was appointed to take her place as second grade teacher.

A leave of absence was granted Max Seemist, former Central Junior High school instructor now in the Navy, and Mrs. Pauline Buchanan was employed to fill the vacancy caused by his leaving the Central staff.

Mrs. Patricia Jackson was appointed fourth grade teacher at Oak Street, to take the place of Mrs. Mildred Buente, who has been transferred to teach sixth grade at the same building. The sixth grade there was so large it was divided and placed in charge of two teachers.

Supt. E. E. Holt reported he has asked J. E. Price, Harold Markin, A. H. Clarie and Miss Bessie Snyder to make a study of eighth and ninth grade general science textbooks and prepare recommendations.

Purchase of 400 gallons of paint from the Marion Paint Co. was authorized at its bid of $612, low among five submitted. Others were Lowe Brothers, $746; Mautz Brothers, $680, Color Center, $900, VanAtta, $668.

A report was made of steps taken to arrange a $60,000 advance draw from real estate tax money now being collected. This will be needed to help meet a forthcoming payroll. Of the total, $48,000 goes into general operating funds and $12,000 into the bond fund.

Bills totaling $6,848.75, including $1,905.54 for coal and $742.63 for insurance, were approved.

Letters from the presidents of the Marion Federation of Teachers suggested the names of Robert T. Mason, J. E. Oliphant and John Zuck for consideration if the board acts to fill a vacancy caused by Dr. D. W. Brickley Jr. entering military service. Board members, taking note of the fact that Dr. Brickley has not resigned and deciding that therefor no vacancy existed, voted to acknowledge the letters.

WATER SHORTAGE THREATENS GALION

Special to The Star

GALION, Feb. 8—That Galion faces a serious water shortage, was announced here Friday by Service Director Charles R. Geiger. He urged that Galion consumers do everything possible to conserve city water. The situation has resulted from the unusually dry weather, he said. City wells are being pumped to capacity, he said. Many residents have been filling cisterns with city water because of dry cisterns. If the condition should continue, and there is no abundant rain fall within the next three to six months, water will have to be rationed here, Geiger said.

It is expected, however, that before that time the new Hurley reservoir will be providing water for the city. Water from the new reservoir will have to be treated, though, before it is used.

Cadiz Church Burns with Loss of $100,000

By The Associated Press

CADIZ, O., Feb. 7 — Fire destroyed the 76-year-old United Presbyterian church here Saturday night, causing damage in excess of $100,000, Rev. John Calvin Smith said today.

Hampered by low water pressure, firemen from Hopedale, Jewett and Adena joined Cadiz volunteers to bring the fire under control.

Fire Chief Don Vashinder said sparks from the chimney of the parsonage ignited the wooden belfry of the church.

The cost of the Washington monument was $1,300,000.

Have You Ever Answered A Want Ad?

Most of us have at some time or other. Maybe, it was for a cord of wood, load of coal, house to rent, price of cars, etc. Perhaps, you mislaid the paper and had to find the number other ways. But, nevertheless, you have answered one.

Now, multiply this by the population in Marion Co. then add ½ the population of surrounding counties, then throw in a few from Calif., Fla., etc.,-maybe even one from Canada.

Now, isn't that proof enough for you that they are successful? O. K. since you're convinced, what're we waitin' for?

MARKET MAKES MILD RECOVERY

Higher General Motors Dividend Provides Stimulation for Increase.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, Feb. 8—A boosted General Motors dividend, plus belief the stock market had recently been oversold, today provided mild recovery stimulation for leaders in virtually all departments.

Prices hardened after a slightly mixed start and, near the fourth hour, gains of fractions to a point or more were widely distributed. dealings, however, were about on par with yesterday's proceedings which were the slowest since early January.

Buying restraints persisted in apprehension over the battle for Rome, Russian diplomatic clouds and continuance of numerous domestic problems. The President's action on the completed tax bill also was awaited.

General Motors and Chrysler jumped better than a point each. In front were Chicago & Eastern Illinois "A," Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, Westinghouse and DuPont. Laggards included Anaconda, Kennecott, Deere, Oliver Farm and Goodyear.

WHEAT STEADIES IN MID-MORNING RALLY

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, Feb. 8 — Wheat prices turned fairly steady today as a result of a mid-morning rally which, however, failed to pick up enough strength to effect full recovery in the rye pit. Oats remained weak throughout the session due to the indefinite time for scheduled downward revision of ceiling prices.

The decline to new low prices for wheat early in the season, however, failed to stimulate any real demand, since mills apparently have been getting good quantities of loan wheat which has been redeemed. Failure of the rally in rye to gain enough strength was due to a general lack of trading enthusiasm.

LIPPMANN

Europe can be re-established, that Germany can be policed, that satisfactory relations can be established with Russia, if France is not our strong and willing partner.

Important Role

France is the keystone of the arch in any settlement which Britain and the United States make in Europe. Our armies will withdraw and so will the British armies. Against French opposition no settlement we propose can conceivably endure, without full French support no settlement can be made to work.

For this reason we need now a provisional French government, not merely to administer internal French affairs when we land in France, but to share the responsibility now and to make the necessary commitments now for the settlement in Europe when hostilities end. We must not make the tremendous mistake of settling with Germany and Italy until we know that we can count upon France. For France will remain when we have departed.

The French themselves have a duty which arises from their own vital interest in helping to shape the crucial European decisions. It is their duty to take all possible measures to make it as certain as possible the French committee can in fact make commitments in the name of France.

Since the committee is a de facto government and since there can be no fully legitimate government until the French electorate has voted a government into power, what is to be done in the meantime?

Should Plan Elections

France must speak now on great issues which involve her own future and that of Europe. The French cannot vote now because the Germans occupy most of the country. But the committee can adopt a plan which declares when and how it will call elections for the purpose of creating a sovereign assembly. The pledge of such a plan will go a long way toward validating commitments which the committee makes now.

Obviously if Gen. de Gaulle and his colleagues are pledged to submit to elections as soon as elections can be held they will take no position now in the name of France which they do not have good reason to believe the French nation will sustain.

The pledge of elections at an early and definite date and under a definite procedure is therefore the surest means to do what France and her allies need to have done—to restore France at once to the councils of the powers. As a matter of fact, Gen. de Gaulle and the committee are proposing to hold early elections—in fact, almost immediately.

It is the consultative assembly in Algiers which has not yet been willing to adopt a plan of early elections, and the trouble seems to be induced by considerations not unlike the mish-mash in Congress over votes for soldiers.

But we may have confidence that the French will agree on a plan of early elections, once it is clear to them that their position in the world and their ability to protect the vital interest of France will be greatly strengthened by a prompt and cordial agreement.

Pitfalls of Love

By ADELE GARRISON

"I DON'T think Steve has snitched, as you say, about what really matters," I told Mary. "I'm sure he hasn't told Milner that Father has compelled him to spy upon his former employer under penalty of being prosecuted for forgery, extortion and impersonation."

"Then why," Mary asked, plainly puzzled, "did he spill the lentils about our being in disguise?"

"Did you see him while Milner was walking toward us?" I countered. "No, you couldn't have. Your back was toward him."

Wouldn't Have Seen Him

"If it hadn't been, I wouldn't have seen him anyway," Mary said promptly. "The thing I want the least of these days is the sight or sound of little Stevie."

"Amen!" Noel said almost solemnly, and the eyes of the young husband and wife flashed a message of complete agreement and understanding to each other. It was a glance which warmed the cockles of my heart with its blotting out of the heartache and misunderstanding which Stephen Redfield had brought into their lives.

"I don't take any particular pleasure in looking at him myself," I said, a bit grimly, "but it is my business to watch him, and though he tried to get as far out of sight as he could while Milner was walking over to our table, I got a good glimpse of his face, and if ever a man was frightened almost to the point of swooning, it was Redfield while Milner was talking to us."

"Then why?" Mary began again, then stopped and looked at me.

Answers

"You have all the answers on the end of your tongue, Auntie Madge," she said. "Why not ladle out a teaspoonful, at least?"

"I'll give you all I have, if you'll only be patient," I told her. "But you must remember that I don't know them to be true answers. They're only guess work."

"I'll take my chances on your guess work any day in the week," Mary said. "How about the rest of you folks?"

"Oh, definitely," Carolyn said, while Noel and Ronald responded quickly with the conventional "Yes, indeed."

"I am sure the answer to Steve's behavior is his love of showing off," I told them. "As you know, Noel, his story to Milner, under my father's instructions, was that he had offered his resignation to your father, pretending eye trouble, because you had told him Mary was returning to the cast and that if he stayed in it for a single performance, you would beat his head off."

Noel Grim

"I'm not glad I didn't have to make the threat," Noel said grimly. "I'd have enjoyed pinning his ears back."

"But it wouldn't have helped Father's plan half as much as this way," I told him, then went on with my explanation.

"So you see, Steve didn't have to tell Milner about the real threat Father was holding over both their heads, and I have no doubt he's been trying to get something on Milner which he could take back to Father. And of course, as your father, Noel, didn't give the real reason for discharging Milner, and as Father was careful to substitute a plot to murder Olga and Olina and Georges, and steal Olga's famous emeralds, for Milner's real international espionage plot, neither of them knows what hangs over their heads. If they did, as I told you before, you couldn't see their coat tails for the dust they'd kick up getting away from here."

Felt Secure

"I think both of them felt perfectly secure as they sat dining here, although I have no doubt Milner is here because of some expected development in Marion's case—probably the planned spiriting away of Marion's mother—which she foiled just now by refusing to answer to the name Morton. Then Steve's keen eyes, aided by his knowledge of make-up, spotted our disguise, and—you know his vanity—he could not resist flaunting his knowledge to Milner.

"But Milner, of course, surmises that as friends of Lillian's we are here to watch over her. Therefore he had but one thing left him to do. He had to frighten us away, and while he didn't succeed in doing that, he did give Steve a case of jitters which he'll long remember. The worst of it for Steve is that he can't let Milner know he was frightened, for he can't afford to let Milner suspect that Father has anything on him. Does this answer your question, Mary?"

"I'll say it does," Mary answered. "But, you haven't told me where Adams fits into the jig saw puzzle."

"I think Adams himself may bring us the answer to that," I said. "He has left Milner's table, and is coming this way."

YOUR HEALTH

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.

Hyperinsulinism

"By laboratory tests I have been found to be suffering from hyperinsulinism. Since it is a rare disease I have been unable to find a physician who knows much about it or how to treat it. Can you give me any information?" writes a lady from Hammond, Ind.

Hyperinsulinism is not difficult to understand once you start from fundamentals. It is a disturbance of the utilization of sugars in the body. We depend on the burning of sugars for most of our energy and muscular movements. Sugars are absorbed from the digestive tract and enter the blood, which has a quite constant percentage of sugar. When a muscle contracts the sugar in the blood in the muscle unites with oxygen, just as gasoline in your motor car unites with oxygen to give energy. What sparks the sugar and oxygen in the muscle is insulin. Just as the spark in the cylinder head explodes the gasoline vapor and oxygen in your automobile.

Insulin is secreted by certain cells in the pancreas. These cells are distributed through the pancreas in little nests or islands, called the islets of Langerhans. They do not pour their secretion into the intestine as do the rest of the cells of the pancreas, but are part of the endocrine system of glands, which pour their secretions directly into the blood stream.

In diabetes many of these islets are atrophied and disappear so the amount of insulin in the blood stream is lowered and sugar accumulates in the blood and is excreted in the urine.

Hyperinsulinism is just the opposite of diabetes in that the islet cells secrete too much insulin and the sugar in the blood is reduced.

The symptoms are the same as an overdose of insulin, an experience which diabetics frequently have. There is extreme hunger, weakness, trembling of the muscles and sweating.

These symptoms can be controlled in the same way a diabetic controls an overdose of insulin by eating sugar or candy for emergency or a full meal, all of which bring the blood sugar up, and when the blood sugar is normal the muscles stop trembling and the sense of hunger and other symptoms cease.

Different cases of hyperinsulinism vary in severity. Most of them are mild, but they may be so severe that convulsions occur.

This, of course, would be very serious if the symptoms continued, but in nearly all cases of hyperinsulinism, the symptoms come on in spells. The patient may have an attack every day for a week and be free of attacks for a month or more.

The cause is not known in all cases. In some of the cases there is a tumour or overgrowth of the islet cells in the pancreas and surgical removal gives relief. In 1940 the literature reported 10 cases treated in this way surgically with partial removal of the pancreas with results of five cures, and two cases improved.

For mild cases during attacks frequent small meals, as often as every two hours keep the symptoms under control. The high sugar diet seems to stimulate the islet cells and leads to more severe symptoms and it has been found that a high fat, low carbohydrate diet "works" better.
